James E. Goodman, of this city, and M. A. Grover, of Jamestown, N. D., leave to-day for a six weeks' sojourn at the Hot Springs. Howard Curry will fill Mr. Goodman's position during his absence.

The Atkin Age gives Judge Hall a dig as follows: Judge Hall, of Brainerd, was in town last Wednesday. He announces that it is his intention to return to Atkin in a short time in order to groom himself as a candidate for the office of county attorney this fall. Hall evidently takes courage from the fact that it has been demonstrated that anybody can be elected to that office in Atkin county.

Brainerd Brewery Burned.

Fire was discovered in the Brainerd brewery at 10 o'clock last night by the night watchman and an alarm was turned in from J. J. W. & Co.'s mill. The fire department responded immediately, but arriving on the scene they were powerless to do anything to stay the progress of the flames, as the nearest hydrant to the brewery was in Howe's lumber yard, and the only thing that could be done was to save the property in the outstanding buildings. The fire originated from the fire under the kettle and gained headway while the watchman was out of the building. The property was completely destroyed.

B. Kemper, the superintendent, informs us that the manufactured beer on hand was saved. The loss is estimated at $5,000, with an insurance of $4,000. The property destroyed was owned and operated by Jacob Dobner, of Grand Forks, N. Dakota.

This is the second time the Brainerd brewery has been wiped out by fire, the original having been built by Peter Ort in 1883, and after its destruction it was re-built by Mr. Ort, but soon passed from his hands, owing to financial difficulties. The gentleman who was operating the plant was doing a good business and succeeding as well that he was contemplating the erection of a new brick building soon. This will now be a necessity, and we are informed that it is a certainty.

Assignment of Geo. N. Day.

Geo. N. Day made a general assignment to H. J. Spencer, cashier of the First National Bank, on Saturday afternoon last for the benefit of his creditors. It is understood that the heaviest creditors are eastern firms. The financial troubles of Mr. Day are a matter of universal regret by everybody in the city. He has been one of the most enterprising business men in the city and it is earnestly hoped that he will be able to arrange matters so that he can continue the business. The store is closed pending the legal proceedings.

Murphy Pleads Guilty.

Patrick Murphy, who was indicted on three counts by the grand jury for misappropriation of funds belonging to the city and county during his term as city clerk, pled guilty to one indictment last evening, and the other two were dismissed by the judge. He had not received his sentence up to the time of going to press.

The March Term.

District court opened on Monday morning, Judge Holland presiding, and judging from indications it will take nearly three weeks to reach the foot of the calendar. The following is the work accomplished up to Friday noon:

Leonard Dade vs. Wm. Casey, action for damages for assault. Verdict for plaintiff, with damages fixed at one cent.

Joseph Dade vs. Geo. Ramsey. Verdict for plaintiff for possession of the property sued for and $12 damages.

Nester Otto vs. John McKnight, action on ground of malicious prosecution. At noon today jury had not agreed on verdict. Verdict for defendant.

Alex. McMurry vs. N. McFadden, case on trial today. The plaintiff sues for damages, claiming that defendant allowed plaintiff's wife to buy laudanum at defendant's drug store, knowing that she would use it to excess, and that she did so use it until it caused her to become imbecile and insane.

The grand jury found indictments as follows:

S. W. Brainerd and John Link, grand larceny in second degree, in robbing a man at Denis' saloon.

Robert Lee, grand larceny in second degree, in stealing overcoats owned by H. J. Spencer and D. D. Smith.

Three indictments were found against Patrick Murphy, on account of his shortage and defalcation as city clerk. Murphy's bondsmen have surrendered him to the sheriff, and he is now in jail.

An indictment was found against Mrs. Bella Porter for grand larceny in the second degree, and in default of bail she is in jail awaiting trial.

The grand jury made the following report:

GRAND JURY ROOM, March 23, 1892.

We would respectfully call the Court's attention to the fact that reports of violations of law by certain persons selling goods in "clubs," so-called, in this city, also reports of Mrs. Geo. Barclay and William Botting selling liquors without license, have come to our notice. We would suggest that the Court call the special attention of the next grand jury to these violations of law; and that, in the meantime, the county attorney take such steps as are necessary and consistent with his duties, to suppress these unlawful practices. We have also examined the county jail and Court house, and found the same in good condition.

R. J. HARTLEY, Foreman.
J. N. NEVENS, Clerk.

TO PAVE THE STREETS.

What Some of Our Prominent Citizens Think of the Scheme.

The editorial concerning the disgraceful conditions of our streets in a recent issue of the Dispatch, has occasioned considerable comment among our citizens on the question of paving our business streets, and we are pleased to state that most of it has been of a very favorable character. Indeed, we are surprised to find that the idea has so many enthusiastic supporters who will try to bring sufficient influence to bear on the council to induce them to begin the contemplated improvement this year. Certainly it should not take any elaborate argument to convince them that something ought to be done to render our streets passable at all seasons of the year, and we believe that paving them will be the cheapest way in the long run. The council has power under our present charter to make this improvement, wherever and whenever it is deemed necessary, and assess the cost against the abutting property. This would necessitate but a very small outlay of public money, the expense of the improvement being borne by the owners of property benefited. In paving Front street the city would probably have to stand one-half the entire expense, unless the railroad company would voluntarily pay its share, as its property is not taxable. But we believe that if a proper committee appointed by the council would wait upon the officials they would do the proper thing, as the N. P. company is one of the most progressive corporations in the country. They are progressive enough at least to understand that the expenditure of a couple of thousand dollars in this manner would yield a rich return in a better city and county, and consequently increased business for themselves.

In order to find what public sentiment is in regard to the matter, a DISPATCH interviewed a number of our citizens, who said in substance as follows:

Wm. Paine, Sr.—What do I think of it? Why, sir, I have been working for years on this very subject. I should like to see Front street paved its entire length, and Sixth street to the fair better streets permanently, and advertise the city as an enterprising community to all strangers who come here.

Henry Spalding—I am in favor of it by all means. It's just what ought to be done. Nothing could better advertise the city.

A. F. Ferris—I am strongly in favor of it. The Bank Block property is ready and willing to do its share at any time.

L. J. Cale—I am opposed to it. Neither the city or property owners can afford to do it now.

E. M. Westfall—It is just what we need. It will give us better streets permanently, and advertise the city as an enterprising community to all strangers who come here.

T. McMaster—Our streets are a disgrace, especially at the corner of Sixth and Front streets. I have labored several years to have something done with no effect. I have property on Front street and I am more than willing to bear the expense. I shall not rest until it is done.

Mayor Hagberg—I am in favor of it. Front street has to be done to Front street, and paving is the best and cheapest way. I think Sixth street every year until paved its length.

W. E. Campbell—I am strongly in favor of it.

H. J. Spencer—I have been in favor of it for several years. I am at all times in favor of good, permanent improvements.

Wm. Breidfeld—I am ready and willing to pay my share of the expense.

A. P. Farrar—I would be in favor of it if the city was in a thriving condition, as it is no one can afford it.

C. M. Patek—Certainly I am in favor of it. It ought to be done.

Leon E. Lum—I am strongly in favor of it. We can put down a cedar block pavement cheaper than almost any other city, because of the nature of our soil and the ease with which the blocks could be obtained. We will try and see how we can do at any rate.

Ald. P. M. Lagerquist—It's just the thing. I am in favor of it. The council at its next meeting ought to appoint a committee to make estimates of cost, etc.

Con. O'Brien—It's all right. I'm in favor of it.

A great many other of our prominent citizens have been heard to express themselves as favorable to the project. It is noticeable that those of our citizens who are the largest property owners and the ones who will have to foot the bills. There are no doubt but that the day laborers, men of small holdings, would favor it, as it would give employment to a great many men during the summer.

The Congregational supper at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, was largely attended, and the ladies received many compliments on the elegant repast. A neat sum was realized.

A physician was called to attend the little one, but nothing could be done to save its life. The funeral will occur to-morrow at 2 p. m.
The New Lodge.
The Minnesota Odd Fellow says: For some months past the members of Wilkey No. 37 and Evergreen No. 40, at Brainerd, have been considering the propriety of a consolidation of the two lodges, and all details having been amicably agreed upon, the charters of both lodges were surrendered, and on Wednesday evening, March 9th, a new lodge was instituted, taking the name of Unity No. 194. The Grand Master was present, and succeeded in perfecting every detail necessary in order to comply with the law relating to the consolidation of lodges. Wilkey Lodge was the possessor of a substantial brick building, upon which there is a slight indebtedness, and Evergreen lodge had a considerable amount of available cash. According to law the new lodge succeeds to the property of both old lodges, and under the stimulus of the new order of things, the building will be paid for in a short time, the members will pursue their work harmoniously, and Odd Fellowship in the "city of pines" will flourish.

Assignment of Geo. N. Day.
Geo. N. Day made a general assignment to H. J. Spencer, cashier of the First National Bank, on Saturday afternoon last for the benefit of his creditors. It is understood that the heaviest creditors are eastern firms. The financial troubles of Mr. Day are a matter of universal regret by everybody in the city. He has been one of the most enterprising business men in the city and it is earnestly hoped that he will be able to arrange matters so that he can continue the business. The store is closed pending the legal proceedings.
Murphy Pleads Guilty.
Patrick Murphy, who was indicted on three counts by the grand jury for misappropriation of funds belonging to the city and county during his term as city clerk, pled guilty to one indictment last evening, and the other two were dismissed by the judge. He had not received his sentence up to the time of going to press.

The March Term.
District court opened on Monday morning. Judge Holland presiding, and judging from indications it will take nearly three weeks to reach the foot of the calendar. The following is the work accomplished up to Friday noon:
Leonard Dade vs. Wm. Casey, action for damages for assault. Verdict for plaintiff, with damages fixed at one cent.
Joseph Dade vs. Geo. Ramsey. Verdict for plaintiff for possession of the property sued for and $12 damages.
Nester Otto vs. John McKnight, action on ground of malicious prosecution. At noon today jury had not agreed on verdict. Verdict for defendant.
Alex. McMurry vs. N. McFadden, case on trial today. The plaintiff sues for damages, claiming that defendant allowed plaintiff's wife to buy laudanum at defendant's drug store, knowing that she would use it to excess, and that she did so use it until it caused her to become imbecile and insane.
The grand jury found indictments as follows:
S. W. Brainerd and John Link, grand larceny in second degree, in robbing a man at Denis' saloon.
Robert Lee, grand larceny in second degree, in stealing overcoats owned by H. J. Spencer and D. D. Smith.
Three indictments were found against Patrick Murphy, on account of his shortage and defalcation as city clerk. Murphy's bondsmen have surrendered him to the sheriff, and he is now in jail.
An indictment was found against Mrs. Bella Porter for grand larceny in the second degree, and in default of bail she is in jail awaiting trial.
The grand jury made the following report:
GRAND JURY ROOM, March 23, 1892.
We would respectfully call the Court's attention to the fact that reports of violations of law by certain persons selling goods in "clubs," so-called, in this city, also reports of Mrs. Geo. Barclay and William Botting selling liquors without license, have come to our notice. We would suggest that the Court call the special attention of the next grand jury to these violations of law; and that, in the meantime, the county attorney take such steps as are necessary and consistent with his duties, to suppress these unlawful practices. We have also examined the county jail and Court house, and found the same in good condition.
J. N. NEVENS, Foreman.
R. J. HARTLEY, Clerk.

TO PAVE THE STREETS.
What Some of Our Prominent Citizens Think of the Scheme.
The editorial concerning the disgraceful condition of our streets in a recent issue of the DISPATCH, has occasioned considerable comment among our citizens on the question of paving our business streets, and we are pleased to state that most of it has been of a very favorable character. Indeed, we are surprised to find that the idea has so many enthusiastic supporters who will try to bring sufficient influence to bear on the council to induce them to begin the contemplated improvement this year. Certainly it should not take any elaborate argument to convince them that something ought to be done to render our streets passable at all seasons of the year, and we believe that paving them will be the cheapest way in the long run. The council has power under our present charter to make this improvement, wherever and whenever it is deemed necessary, and assess the cost against the abutting property. This would necessitate but a very small outlay of public money, the expense of the improvement being borne by the owners of property benefited. In paving Front street the city would probably have to stand one-half the entire expense, unless the railroad company would voluntarily pay its share, as its property is not taxable. But we believe that if a proper committee appointed by the council would wait upon the officials they would do the proper thing, as the N. P. company is one of the most progressive corporations in the country. They are progressive enough at least to understand that the expenditure of a couple of thousand dollars in this manner would yield a rich return in a better city and county, and consequently increased business for themselves.
In order to find what public sentiment is in regard to the matter, a DISPATCH interviewed a number of our citizens, who said in substance as follows:
Wm. Paine, Sr.—What do I think of it? Why, sir, I have been working for years on this very subject. I should like to see Front street paved its entire length, and Sixth street to the fair grounds. I am willing to bear my share of the expense.
Henry Spalding—I am in favor of it by all means. It's just what ought to be done. Nothing could better advertise the city.
A. F. Ferris—I am strongly in favor of it. The Bank Block property is ready and willing to do its share at any time.
L. J. Cale—I am opposed to it. Neither the city or property owners can afford to do it now.
E. M. Westfall—It is just what ought to be done. It will give us better streets permanently, and advertise the city as an enterprising community to all strangers who come here.
T. McMaster—Our streets are a disgrace, especially at the corner of Sixth and Front streets. I have labored several years to have something done with no effect. I have property on Front street and I am more than willing to bear the expense. I shall not rest until it is done.
Mayor Hagberg—I am in favor of it. Something will have to be done to Front street, and paving is the best and cheapest way. I think Sixth street should be paved as far as possible, also.
W. E. Campbell—I am strongly in favor of it.
H. J. Spencer—I have been in favor of it for several years. I am at all times in favor of good, permanent improvements.
Wm. Bredfeldt—I am ready and willing to pay my share of the expense.
P. Farrar—I would be in favor of it if the city was in a thriving condition, as it is no one can afford it.
C. M. Patek—Certainly I am in favor of it. It ought to be done.
Leon E. Lum—I am strongly in favor of it. We can put down a cedar block pavement cheaper than almost any other city, because of the nature of our soil and the ease with which the blocks could be obtained. We will try and see what we can do at any rate.
Ald. P. M. Lagerquist—It's just the thing. I am in favor of it. The council at its next meeting ought to appoint a committee to make estimates of cost, etc.
Con. O'Brien—It's all right. I'm in favor of it.
A great many other of our prominent citizens have been heard to express themselves as favorable to the project. It is noticeable that those of our citizens who are most enthusiastic in its favor are the largest property owners and the ones who will have to foot the bills. There can be no doubt but that the day laborers, men of small holdings, would favor it, as it would give employment to a great many men during the summer.
